TH 343 SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY 3
(3 credits)
Online learning

Lecturer: Dr. Jay Taylor, D.Min

29 Oct - 14 Nov (Wed - Fri)
Time: 2.00 PM - 6.00 PM

This course provides a detailed, systematic examination of two foundational Christian doctrines: Ecclesiology and Eschatology.

Ecclesiology delves into the nature and mission of the church. Students will explore its theological identity, purpose, and function in the world. Topics include the church's biblical foundations, its various forms and structures throughout history, and its role in God's plan.

Eschatology focuses on the doctrine of future and final events. The course examines biblical prophecies and theological interpretations concerning the end times, the return of Christ, and the ultimate destiny of humanity and creation. A significant part of this study involves analyzing and comparing the major theological viewpoints on these events, helping students to understand the diversity of perspectives within Christian thought.

The course will focus on the study of Emotional Intelligence (EQ) and its impact on the individual believer and their world. The premise of this study is that: emotional health and spiritual maturity are inseparable. It is not possible to be spiritually mature while remaining emotionally immature. Participants will gain both a biblical and secular understanding of EQ, as well as develop the primary skills needed to identify and assess EQ for themselves, learning how to use this information as they interact with others. Special focus will be the four general areas EQ: Self Awareness; Self-Management, Social Awareness,

ABOUT THE LECTURERS

DR. SUSAN COMISKEY, D.Min

Susan Comiskey is an enthusiastic teacher and speaker. Together with her husband, she has pioneered and led churches in Tonga, Uganda, England, and East Timor. Susan has been involved in both church and community pastoral work for over thirty years. Her passion is missions and her aim is to help others flourish. Susan holds a Master's Degree in Pastoral Leadership (MPL) and a Doctor of Ministry (D.Min) from the Assemblies of God Theological Seminary (AGTS), USA.

DR. JAY TAYLOR, D.Min.

Following a decade of pastoral service focused on college ministries, Jay Taylor began working with emerging leaders in the educational setting. He spent three years as a Resident Director at Evangel University in Springfield, Missouri; two years as the Dean of Students at Asia Theological Center in Singapore; and twenty-five years as a professor & administrator at the Assemblies of God Theological Seminary (AGTS) in Springfield, Missouri. Jay enhanced the AGTS community through the development of a student life and spiritual formation department, creating an integrated culture of holistic personal and spiritual growth.

Concurrent with serving at AGTS, for nearly two decades Jay has served the Vice President of Development at Asia Theological Center (ATC), a fully accredited Bible college in Singapore. ATC has students from nearly 50 countries around the world. (This is a position which Jay still currently holds, and he travels back and forth to Singapore.)

Currently, Jay has partnered with the Assemblies of God World Missions and moved to Kenya to assist in developing ministry training opportunities for East African church leaders. Jay loves working with leaders in these multicultural settings. It's a perfect fit, as he is passionate about equipping students for global impact. Jay's relational leadership style naturally encourages students in their quest of fulfill their God-given visions for life and ministry.
